Chapter 1 Admission policy

Section 1.1 Mission and educational philosophy

Hiroshima Global Academy (HiGA) opened in April 2019, with the mission of fostering leaders who create a “better future” for peace and sustainable development, with the aim to be a global leader in building peace with the power of “learning”.

In line with this mission, HiGA aims to develop students who have the following five competencies.

1. Deep understanding to apply knowledge and skills to new challenges
2. Creative and critical thinking skills to create new values
3. Collaboration skills to cooperate with people from different cultures that have different values
4. Confidence to see things through to accomplish targets
5. Communication skills to discuss and cooperate with people in Japanese and English

The school's curriculum is based on the development of these competencies and is linked to the International Baccalaureate Middle Years Programme and the Diploma Programme (DP), all of which are linked to the research carried out by universities.

Section 1.2 Ideal candidate profile for HiGA

The school welcomes students from all over Japan and the world who share this educational philosophy and who have a strong desire to learn. We are looking for students who are ready for the DP, who can understand things conceptually, who have the language skills to understand classes conducted in English, and who have a strong desire to think creatively and critically in an inquiry-based learning environment. Most importantly, they will have an interest in learning and a commitment to personal growth through living with people from different cultures that have different values. The school welcomes students who aspire to become global leaders for the creation of a peaceful and sustainable future.

Section 1.3 Basic admission policy

The selection of students for the 2022 academic year at Hiroshima Global Academy will be based on the "Basic Policy on the Selection of Students for the 2022 Academic Year of Hiroshima Prefectural Integrated Junior and Senior High Schools." and the "Admission Guideline of Hiroshima Prefectural Senior High School within Hiroshima's integrated school system (Hiroshima Global Academy) for 2022 Academic Year".
